Conversations on Learning and Teaching

Dr. Jack Y. Narayan
Dean of Graduate Studies and Research – Distinguished Teaching Professor, Mathematics

When: Thursday April 29th – 11:15-12:30
Where: Rooms 232-233 Hewitt Union

Presented by CELT and COLT … refreshments provided by Auxiliary Services

Dr. Narayan’s presentation on learning and teaching will be followed by a roundtable discussion. Everyone is welcome to be a part of this conversation.

Appointed in 1970, Dr. Jack Narayan has served as project director on several national and state grants for Mathematics Reform to enhance student's learning and facilitate faculty, course and curriculum development. He is currently a co-director of SUNY Oswego Institution-Wide Reform of Science, Math, & Technology Instruction. He is interested in efforts to broaden the meaning of scholarship and to develop standards by which such work could be assessed. He is involved in programs to increase the participation of students from underrepresented groups in mathematics and science.

Dr. Narayan has been recognized numerous times for his outstanding work in the area of learning and teaching. In 1981 he was awarded the Chancellor's Award for Excellence in Teaching. At Syracuse University he was given the Beta Gamma Sigma Outstanding Faculty Award (1986). In 1988 Dr. Narayan became a Distinguished Teaching Professor of Mathematics. He won the Nontraditional Student Outstanding Faculty Award in 1992. Phi Delta Kappa recognized him with the Phi Delta Kappa International Educator of the Year Award.
