The world-class Richard S. Shineman Center for Science, Engineering & Innovation, opened in fall 2013, is built to achieve LEED Gold certification for green building design. It is the academic showpiece in Oswego’s nearly $800 million campus renewal program.

Established in 1861, SUNY Oswego is one of the founding members of the State University of New York system. Oswego offers more than 110 internationally recognized programs from Accounting to Zoology.

Distinctive Programs
- Cutting-edge research programs and facilities in Liberal Arts and Sciences; Business; Communication, Media and the Arts; and Education
- Student-centered learning environments with small class sizes
- 88% of teaching faculty hold a Ph.D. or the terminal degree in their discipline

Research Opportunities
- Emphasis on faculty mentored research and creative activity
- $6.5 million in externally sponsored research conducted. For example: The Center for Accounting Research and Education — The Center for Energy Education and Economic Solutions — The Center for Neurobehavioral Effects of Environmental Toxins — The Environmental Research Center — The Institute for Global Engagement — The Lake-Effect Storm Prediction and Research Center — The Mass Spectrometry and Proteomics Center — The Molecular Biology and Biochemistry Center

Real World Connections
- SUNY Oswego will assist students in their search for co-ops and internship opportunities

Safety
- Security is provided by campus police with 24-hr patrols, 24-hr emergency telephones, and controlled dormitory access.

Accreditation & Rankings
- Accreditation: AACSB International; ACS; CTTE; NASAD; NASM; NAST; NCATE; and SHRM
- Colleges of Distinction cites “…continual growth and strong academics…engaged students, great teaching, vibrant communities, and successful outcomes…”
- The Princeton Review: The Best Northeastern Colleges 2014 and The Best 301 Business Schools
- The International Student Barometer rated SUNY Oswego #2 in the USA for satisfaction with on-campus life, and #8 in the world

Two Letters of Recommendation: The online application will ask you to submit the email addresses of two recommenders. Once the email addresses have been submitted, your references will receive an email instructing them how to submit a reference. You can check the status of this by logging into your online application. This must be sent separately from your other documents.

Official Transcripts: Official transcripts must be sealed and sent by your university directly to SUNY Oswego.

Financial Documentation: A letter from the bank on bank letterhead with the bank’s official signature and stamp evidencing sufficient funds for one year. If your financial support is from a sponsor (anyone other than yourself), your sponsor must fill out the affidavit. This must be sent separately from your other documents.

English Proficiency: Your documented English language abilities may include national language, mother tongue, language of prior degree or secondary school study. Unless your undergraduate courses were taught in English, you must provide official documentation of the necessary TOEFL, IELTS, or comparable scores.

GRE/GMAT score: Test scores are required for certain programs. Check your program’s page if you need a GRE/GMAT score. If they are required, they must be submitted by ETS.

Original Bank Statement with a bank official’s signature and stamp evidencing sufficient funds for one year and if supported by a sponsor, a completed SUNY International Student Financial Statement signed and stamped by your sponsor’s bank and sponsor.

Conditional Admission is offered with registration into SUNY Oswego’s on-campus intensive English program through EC English, or by taking English for Academic Purposes courses, depending on proficiency.
