

SUNY Oswego
Mandatory Certification Disclosure
for U.S. States and Territories

New York State prides itself on the high quality of its certified and licensed professionals. For the protection of its citizens, each certificate and license have requirements that individuals must meet to be certified or licensed in New York State. SUNY's academic programs leading to certification or licensure are carefully designed to meet and exceed these state requirements. This is a role SUNY plays in protecting the public. Other states frequently have their own requirements, so if your goal is to practice in another state, this disclosure will help you check to see what that state requires.

Per U.S. Federal Regulations, §668.43 (2019 Rule), and in compliance with the State Authorization Reciprocity Agreements (SARA) Manual version 19.2, SUNY Oswego provides the following disclosure related to the educational requirements for professional certification and licensure.<sup>1</sup>

This Disclosure is strictly limited to SUNY Oswego's determination of whether its Educator Preparation programs, if successfully completed, would be sufficient to meet the educational certification or licensure requirements in another state for teacher certification/licensure.<sup>2</sup> SUNY Oswego cannot provide verification an individual's ability to meet certification or licensure requirements unrelated to its educational programming. These individual determinations are made by state certification or licensing boards and are fact-specific determinations.

SUNY Oswego has designed Undergraduate, Graduate, and Post-Baccalaureate Educator Preparation curricular programs, that if successfully completed, are sufficient to meet the certification and licensure educational requirements in the following state:

<sup>1</sup> The terms related to credentialing of educators, including certification and licensure, among others, vary by state, and your state of interest may use different terms.

<sup>2</sup> This determination is based on the educational and curricular requirements of each state for certification or licensure (i.e., excluding any special, temporary licensure that may be granted) and does not imply that other requirements for certification or licensure do not exist (e.g., taking and passing certification or licensure exams) or have been determined to have been met by this program or that any necessary approvals for clinical placements have been secured at the time of enrollment. Each student should verify their particular situation with their intended state's certification or licensing entity. This disclosure does not provide any guarantee that any particular state certification or licensure entity will approve or deny an application. Furthermore, this disclosure does not account for changes in state law or regulation that may affect an application for certification or licensure that occur after this disclosure has been made.

SUNY Oswego has designed Undergraduate, Graduate, and Post-Baccalaureate Educator Preparation curricular programs and currently has made no determination that these curricular programs are insufficient to meet the curricular requirements for certification/licensure requirements in the following states or territories. Likewise, after making all reasonable efforts, SUNY Oswego cannot determine whether its Undergraduate, Graduate, and Post-Baccalaureate Educator Preparation curricular programs, that if successfully completed, are sufficient to meet the certification and licensure requirements in the states<sup>3</sup> and territories listed in the table below.

This disclosure does not provide any guarantee that any particular state certification or licensure entity will approve or deny your application. Furthermore, this disclosure does not account for changes in state law or regulation that may affect your application for licensure and occur after this disclosure has been made. Enrolled students and prospective students are strongly encouraged to contact their State’s licensure entity using the links provided to review all certification and licensure requirements imposed by their state(s) of choice.
