University at Buffalo
Department of Biostatistics
School of Public Health and Health Professions

Fast-track your graduate school admission process!

Enroll in our new Accelerated Admission Partnership Program

Explore the benefits of automatic admission into one of two master's programs. You will develop biostatistical and research skills for meaningful applications in health-related fields including bioinformatics, public health, medicine and biology.

Programs

Bioinformatics and Biostatistics MS

Biostatistics MA

Qualifications

- Overall GPA of 3.25 or higher

- Majoring in undergraduate degree programs offered by the Department of Mathematics at SUNY Oswego

- Achieved a B or higher in:
  - MAT 210
  - MAT 220
  - MAT 230
  - MAT 240
  - AND one of the following: MAT 179, MAT 158, MAT 318, MAT 354

Benefits

- Automatic admission if requirements have been met. Programs have limited capacity.

- GRE requirement waived.

- Notification of admission by January 20th -- 4 months earlier than standard admission!

Apply now at

http://sphhp.buffalo.edu/accelerated-biostatistics

January 1 - Early decision admission deadline

January 20 - Notification of early admission decision

April 15 - Standard admission deadline

Questions? Contact Us!

Mark Baker, Assistant Professor, Department of Mathematics, mark.baker@oswego.edu

UB School of Public Health and Health Professions

Office for Academic and Student Affairs, sphhp-oasa@buffalo.edu