

FIRE AND LIFE SAFETY RESEARCH PAPER (FLS #1)

Research fire and life safety issues on college campuses. See specific instruction below:

You must review the 2017-2018 Student Handbook and the following websites for additional information on your specific violation. Look for policies, procedures and other information that related directly to what you did, why it was a violation of policy, law, etc. Specifically, look for articles that deal with residence hall/campus fires on college campuses in the last ten years.

Upon completion of your research in the handbook and compiling various internet sources, you are to submit a 500 word essay describing the information you obtained. You are responsible to discuss fire and life safety issues, particularly as they relate to residential living and the responsibilities of community members to abide by those regulations. You are to integrate this information to explain your responsibility to the Oswego State community and how your actions interfere with the peace and safety of the Oswego State community. Also comment on your experience with this entire process, what you have learned and what you could have done differently.
